Dear Dr. Edem:

Congratulations! I am pleased to inform you that you passed the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM) 2015 Internal Medicine Certification Examination. The following Score Report provides you with details about your exam performance.

I know from my own experience how much work goes into preparing for the exam. With this significant achievement, you will receive a certification in Internal Medicine that will remain valid as long as you are meeting the requirements of the ABIM Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program (i.e., continuously engaging in MOC). You'll also notice that we've updated our website to indicate that you are ABIM Board Certified.

Your new certificate will be mailed to you by February 28, 2016. If you would like to change how your name will appear on the certificate or would like to order multiple copies, please complete and submit the form at the end of the score report packet by November 5, 2015.

ABIM will also provide your name to the American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS) for listing in The Official ABMS Directory of Board Certified Medical Specialists. ABMS will send you a form soliciting the information to appear in your listing.

Again, congratulations! We'll be in touch next month to tell you more about how you can maintain your certification through ABIM's MOC program and earn CME in the process.

If you have questions, please call 1-800-441-ABIM (2246), Mon.-Fri., 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. ET, Sat., 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. ET, or send us an e-mail.

On behalf of ABIM, I wish you continued success and enrichment throughout your career.

Respectfully,

Richard J. Baron, MD, MACP

Dear Dr. Edem:

Congratulations! On behalf of the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM), I am pleased to inform you that you have passed your Fall 2017 Endocrinology, Diabetes, and Metabolism Certification Examination. The following score report provides you with details about your exam performance.

Your accomplishment demonstrates to your patients and peers that you have the knowledge, skills and attitudes essential for excellent patient care. You should be proud of this accomplishment.

I know from my own experience how much work goes into preparing to take the exam. With this significant achievement, you will receive a certification in Endocrinology, Diabetes, and Metabolism that will remain valid as long as you are meeting the requirements of the ABIM Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program (i.e., continuously engaging in MOC). You'll also notice that we've updated our website to indicate that you are ABIM Board Certified in Endocrinology, Diabetes, and Metabolism. Visit abim.org to learn more about maintaining your certification through MOC, and how you can earn MOC points for CME activities you are already doing.

Your new certificate is on its way, and you should receive it within six weeks.

ABIM will also provide your name to the American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS) for listing in The Official ABMS Directory of Board Certified Medical Specialists. ABMS will send you a form soliciting the information to appear in your listing.

Again, congratulations! I wish you continued success throughout your career. If you have questions, please call 1-800-441-ABIM (2246), Mon. – Fri., 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. ET, or send us an email.

Sincerely,

Richard J. Baron, MD, MACP
